'SKATER' REYNOLDS TALKS OF GATES

Commissioner for the Late Sporting Man and Financier Has Some Facts of Note.

Buffalo, August 14.—In Buffalo this week there is a man who for eight years was intimately associated with John W. Gates, the great American financier whose spectacular career was brought to a close in Paris after a game but losing fight with death. Earl Reynolds, more familiarly known in the sporting world as Skater, who is playing in vaudeville this week at Shea's Theatre, was Gates's confidential man in the time of his big racing and big betting.

From 1895 to 1905 Mr. Reynolds acted as Mr. Gates's betting manager. He came to know the financier as one brother knows another. If one would learn of Mr. Gates's characteristics, his habits, his virtues and his faults, he has but to go to Earl Reynolds. The latter, who was a former was thrown into close contact with the famous man as were few others. He had opportunities to observe Mr. Gates under almost every sort of circumstance. And in Buffalo there is at least one mourner for the lost financier.

"No finer man ever lived than John Gates," said Mr. Reynolds last night. "He was as square as they make them, as game as the best loser that ever played the markets, as kind as a good Samaritan, and as daring and resourceful as the greatest general that ever fought a battle. He was a good friend, a good winner and a good loser."

"As his betting commissioner, I have known him as much as $10,000 a day for Mr. Gates. There was never an other plunger like him. I've seen him stake $10,000 on a horse that was running second in the home stretch. I have seen him wager $50,000 on the tail of a coin. He was always cool and collected. He was the same when he won as when he lost."

"I became acquainted with Mr. Gates through my father, who was a horseman. I knew him when he first started out, when he wasn't worth $10,000. He was the same then as he was before he died. There was never anything stuck up about John Gates. He was as plain and unassuming when he was worth $10,000,000 as he was when he sold barbed-wire fences."

"During the five years I was with him I should estimate that he gave away $500,000. I am sure that no other rich man was so charitable. He helped every down-and-out person that came to him. I don't believe he ever turned down anybody. And he never gave away less than $100 at any one time."

"His wonderful foresight, of course, brought him his fortune. He could see further ahead than any man I have ever known. He had more sporting blood in his veins than most of the average race-track men put together. After he had amassed a fortune there was no limit to his plunging. He didn't have to have an edge or inside information. He was always ready to bet either way."

Only Dropped Ball Keeps St. Louis From Applying Whitewash.

HARMON VERY LIBERAL

Gives Nine Bases on Balls, but Gets Gilt-Edged Support.

Pittsburg, Pa., August 14.—Only for the drop of a thrown ball by Ketcher, Pittsburg to-day would have been shut out by St. Louis. The visitors hit the ball hard and often enough to keep them in the lead from the second inning to the finish. Harmon gave nine bases on balls, but was given the best kind of support. Score:

BASEBALL LEAGUE MAY BE ORGANIZED

Virginia-Carolina Circuit, With Six Clubs, Reported as Probable.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
Newport News, Va., August 14.—The officials of the Newport News Baseball Association decline to discuss the matter, it was learned today that negotiations are on for the formation of a Virginia-Carolina Baseball League to embrace this city, Portsmouth and Suffolk, in Virginia, and Norfolk and Suffolk, in North Carolina, one of which will be Elizabeth City.

Representatives from the North Carolina cities have been here several days conferring with President Horwitz, of the local association, and it is understood, their proposition has met with the approval of the local managers.

HARMONY AND HYGIENE COMBINE IN TROUSERS

Harvard Expert Recommends That Women Adopt Men's Apparel, Gives Greater Comfort.

Cambridge, Mass., August 14.—"I consider trousers for women to be not only desirable from a hygienic and sanitary point of view, but distinctly desirable in the way of economy and simplicity," is the view of the famous physiologist, Dr. H. H. Henshaw, of the Harvard University.

"They give freedom of movement; they do away with the injurious corset; they are less immodest than some of our latest gowns, and they are in every way more desirable for the girl who works for her living."

"Trousers are not a bit more immodest than any other costume. I date say that they would be far more modest than some of the extravagant costumes that have become part and parcel of the fashionable woman's wardrobe of to-day."

"Trousers are well known as being a far more hygienic thing than are skirts. They do not gather dust, since they sweep clear of the ground at all times. They do not catch disease germs, and the danger of infection thus is greatly diminished. Moreover, I would do away with trousers which alone ought to commend them to thinking women. The evils of the corset are too well known to require comment at this late day."

"That trousers give greater freedom to the body is self-evident. Any one who has seen some of our young photographers run, when late to their offices, in such a manner, will readily see the advantage of trousers. Sitting, standing, walking and running, the trousers have the advantage of the skirt always for ease and comfort."

WILL ENTER CARS IN GLIDDEN TOUR

Atlanta, Ga., August 14.—Southern automobilists will take more interest this year than ever before in the Glidden tour, which will be run to Jacksonville, Fla., via Atlanta. Three prominent Atlanta business men entered cars to-day, and six are ready to make application. The selection of Southern roads for this season's tour is declared to have been due largely to the vast amount of work that has been done on public highways below the Potomac in recent years. The use of convict labor has made this possible.

Jacksonville as well as Atlanta is prepared to welcome the tourists, and are repairing the roads in that vicinity.

CATCHER LUCIA FINED FOR BAD WORKING GAME

Manager Cowan Also Punished for Collusion in Scheme to Use Oiled Balls Against Petersburg Team Saturday.

Catcher Lucia, of the Colts, was yesterday fined $10 and suspended for three days for tampering with the balls in last Saturday's games between Richmond and Petersburg. Manager Cowan was fined $25 for collusion in the scheme. A message from President Williams to the Colts manager, at present with his team in Danville, sustains Manager Busch's charges and notifies him of the assessments.

The trouble arose in the second game of the double bill at the Broad Street Park, Saturday, when Manager Busch, of the Petersburg team, protested the game, alleging that Richmond had purposely withheld the good balls during the game and had thrown into the box balls that were old and soiled, and even treated with a coat of oil. He charged further that this was done in the knowledge that Hamilton, who was on the mound that game, is a curve pitcher, and was rendered practically helpless by the trick. The umpire, however, saw to it that one ball suspiciously was snatched back to the bench. Later he went to the Richmond bench and procured a supply of fresh balls and the game proceeded. It resulted in a tie, and furthering was heard from the protest.

In the opinion of baseball men present the protest of the Petersburg manager had little to justify it. It was pointed out that the umpire is the final judge as to the fitness or unfitness of all paraphernalia used in the game, and as long he had no fault to find with the balls, he was not to be consulted an attorney. Mr. Gerber, of course, handles theatrical litigation, and it was no doubt because of that that the stories were started.

It was also admitted at the office of National League attorney for Mr. Colt, that papers had been served.

Mr. Colt broke in: "That also is as untrue as the other stories," he exclaimed. "My Meyer hasn't got any office. He hasn't practiced law for years. He is simply a friend of mine, had been a friend of my father's."
